Top 5 Challenges

1. Keeping medical data up-to-date (and managing your liability):
   Paper forms and manual data transfers mean there's often significant disparity between school records and the current medical status of students.

2. Capturing and integrating medical data during pre-admissions:
   Think about all the manual data entry and matching required to transfer pre-admissions data into your SIMS Student Records upon acceptance.

3. Accessibility:
   Can you guarantee anytime access to a universal view of the latest parent-consented emergency, medical and dietary information?

4. Exasperated parents:
   Do you ask parents for the same medical and emergency information for every school trip, sports event and extra-curricular activity?

5. Data security and chasing paper forms:
   Secure transfer and storage, audited access, and GDPR compliance are unenforceable with most medical data collection processes.

"We have used Operoo to completely remove all paper from the new starters parents experience. We send out all permission forms including home/school agreement, biometric permission and day trips agreement.

Parents also provide us with student medical information via Operoo, which is linked to SIMS. The information flows straight back into SIMS. All our trips and admin staff love it, and it saves us loads of time, as it does the chasing for us!"
